

DOUGLAS COLLEGE

Date:

OCTOBER 14, 1987

A: Division:

INSTRUCTIONAL

SCIENCES

New Course:

NO

B: Faculty:

HEALTH

YES

Revision of Course:

DECEMBER 6, 1991

CUDA 010

D. DENTAL HEALTH SERVICES

C.

Modern Dental Assisting, latest edition, Philadelphia, Pa.: Saunders, Inc. * Torres, H.D. and Ehrlich, A.

Modern Dental Assisting, latest edition, Philadelphia, Pa.: Saunders, Inc. * Torres, H.D. and Ehrlich, A.

Supplementary text:

Harris, N.D., and Christen, A.G., Primary Preventive Dentistry, latest edition, Connecticut: Appleton & Lange.

* Same texts used in all courses of the Dental Assisting Program.

Course Evaluation

Method of Instruction

OBJECTIVES

COURSE

Subject and Course Number

3. Concepts of Prevention/Dental Hygiene

Oral Hygiene techniques

ing methods
hods ulation
Characteristics of toothbrushes and floss
es / Mouth rinses
Tooth whitening systems

Toothbrushing
Flossing met
Gingival stim
Dentifric

4. Discuss Learning Principles

Domains of learning (Bloom - Krathwohl)

ole of motivation / behaviour change

Instructional techniques - presentation skills

Teaching aids

Goal setting

Individualizing instruction

Self-evaluation

5. Provision of Self Care Plans

Rapport with patient

Patient education

Self Evaluation

6. Oral Hygiene Instruction to Groups and/or Special Needs Individuals

Individuals
Oral hygiene instruction
Characteristics of groups / special needs
Modifications / strategies for all
Group presentation

Q. METHODOLOGY INSTRUCTION

1. Lecture
2. Group discussion
3. Guest lecturers
4. Audio-visual materials
5. Field Experience

R. COURSE EVALUATION

ectives, and is consistent with Devleyn College Evaluation Policy based on the student's performance in a minimum mark of 65% is required to be successful in the course evaluation schedule is provided minimum mark of 65% is required to be successful in the course