

Douglas College

COURSE INFORMATION

A: Division : INSTRUCTIONAL

B: Faculty : LANGUAGE, LITERATURE & PROGRAMMING

C: Department : COMMUNICATIONS

ARTS

Program

C: CMNS 217

D: INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATION FOR THE MULTICULTURAL WORKPLACE

Revision of Course
Information Form

E:

F:

STUDENTS' COUNCIL APPROVAL DATE: 14/04/2014 APPROVED BY: PROFESSOR: S. K. SINGH

O. COURSE OBJECTIVES (cont'd)*Awareness:

With the context of the multicultural workplace, students will be able to

1. show awareness of the influences of culture on communication.

P. COURSE CONTENT (cont'd)

IV. Examining interpersonal skills for communicating in the multilingual workplace

some misinterpretations

- awareness of the influences of one's own culture

- awareness of differences in communication style
- sensitivity to non-verbal behaviour

- Knowledge of workplace-oriented culture general and culture specific information
- awareness of different cultural approaches to conflict
- differentiating task-oriented from relationship-oriented encounters
- mindfulness

effective communicating:
and positive regard

gather information
behaviour (D.I.E.)

ack

- sensitivity to social and cultural issues
- intercultural empathy

c. - prerequisites for resolving misunderstandings

- attending, observing and listening to others

- describing, interpreting, evaluating behaviour
- generating and testing hypotheses
- perception-checking
- giving appropriate constructive feedback

- ability to manage anxiety associated with unfamiliarity

