

245
Date: 24 January 1954
Department: Student Services and Development

Information Form: X

D: Inner Intermediate Listening for Students
E: ?
G: ESL

Semester Credit	Subject & Course No.	Descriptive Title
		F: Calendar Description: This course is the second level of listening for students of English as a Second Language.

Q. Method of Instruction

The instructor will facilitate, observe and evaluate students' participation in communicative activities. Whole and small group instruction will be combined with individual assistance as needed. Students will participate in the selection of learning activities.

R. Course Evaluation

A mastery model of evaluation will be used. A student will reach mastery when s/he has demonstrated through satisfactory completion of exercises, assignments and other assessments that the course objectives