

COURSE INFORMATION

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

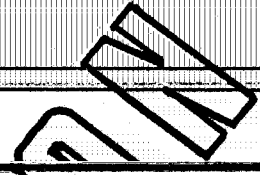

INTRODUCTION TO EARTH SCIENCES

CREDIT

technology and physical geography. From time to time, the origins and development of the Earth's landscape by erosion, weathering, mass wasting, running water, glaciers, wind and waves and processes as well as time.

CATALOGUE DESCRIPTION: An interdisciplinary course combining geology and physical geography. From time to time, the origins and development of the Earth's landscape by erosion, weathering, mass wasting, running water, glaciers, wind and waves and processes as well as time.

COURSE PREREQUISITES: Nil

NAME AND NUMBER OF COURSE

NAME AND NUMBER OF COURSE

COURSES FOR WHICH APPLICABLE

DEPARTMENT COURSES

REQUISITE:

IS A PREREQ

321, 421 / GEOG 310, 320

GEOG 110

GEOL 210,

LIST READING OR SOURCES IF SOMEWHERE

TEXT BOOKS, REFERENCE MATERIAL, ETC.

INDEX

INDEX

